Hi everyone,

On behalf of the elders, I just wanted to reach out to those of you who are leading or helping with small groups—whether that’s a weekly Bible study, a discipleship group, or just getting together for lunch or coffee to talk about life and faith. What you’re doing really matters, and we want you to know how much we appreciate it.

We’d love to get together with you sometime in November (possibly Nov. 3 or 17) — nothing formal, just a time to encourage you, hear how things are going, and talk about ways we can all keep building stronger connections in our church family. As you know, church isn’t just what happens on Sundays. Those midweek conversations and gatherings often make all the difference in people’s spiritual lives.

We also want to stay aware of anyone in the McKnight family who might need a little extra love or support, and you’re often the ones who see those needs first. So this meeting will also give us a chance to talk about how we can communicate better and care for each other well.

Keep up the good work—you’re making a difference! Watch for another email soon with a date and time for the November get-together.

Thanks,

---- Bret (on behalf of the Shepherds)
